The Characters

The film's three main characters are:

- Joseph Azure is a former investment banker who was laid off after 20 years with the firm. He is a single father with two young children.
- Glen is a former trader who was laid off after 15 years with the firm. He is married with two children.

- Bobby is a former janitor who was laid off after 25 years with the firm. He is a single father with one adult daughter.

The Layoffs

The layoffs that the three men experience are sudden and devastating. They are given little or no notice, and they are left to fend for themselves in a difficult economy. The men are all struggling to find new jobs, and they are all worried about how they are going to support their families.

The Impact of the Layoffs

The layoffs have a profound impact on the lives of the three men. They lose their homes, their savings, and their sense of self-worth. They are all struggling to cope with the stress and anxiety of being unemployed. The layoffs also take a toll on their relationships with their families and friends.

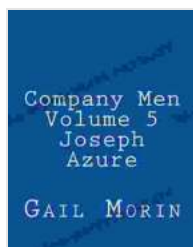

The Fight for Justice

The three men eventually decide to fight back against the firm that laid them off. They file a lawsuit against the firm, alleging that they were victims of age discrimination. The lawsuit is a long and difficult process, but the men are determined to see it through. They believe that they deserve justice, and they want to hold the firm accountable for its actions.

The Outcome

The outcome of the lawsuit is not revealed in the film. However, the fact that the three men are willing to fight for justice is a testament to their strength and resilience. They are not going to let the firm get away with what they did to them. They are going to fight for what they deserve.

Company Men Volume Joseph Azure is a powerful and moving film that exposes the human cost of corporate greed. The film is a reminder that the decisions made by corporate executives can have a devastating impact on the lives of ordinary people. The film is also a call to action. It is a call for us to hold corporations accountable for their actions and to demand that they put people before profits.
