

Shooting Star, Crouching Panther: Quest Library by Dundurn Press

Tecumseh: Shooting Star, Crouching Panther (Quest Library (Dundurn Press)) by Jim Poling Sr.

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language : English

File size	: 1179 KB
Text-to-Speech	: Enabled
Screen Reader	: Supported
Enhanced typesetting	: Enabled
Word Wise	: Enabled
Print length	: 163 pages

Synopsis

In the heart of the sprawling city, two Indigenous teenagers navigate the complexities of growing up in a society that often marginalizes their voices. Shooting Star, a young woman with a sharp wit and a rebellious spirit, struggles to reconcile her Indigenous identity with the expectations of the dominant culture. Crouching Panther, a gifted athlete and artist, faces prejudice and discrimination on a daily basis. Together, they embark on a journey of self-discovery, searching for their place in a world that often seems indifferent to their struggles.

Through their shared experiences of loss, love, and resilience, Shooting Star and Crouching Panther learn the importance of embracing their Indigenous heritage and fighting for their rights. They become mentors and role models for other Indigenous youth, inspiring them to follow their dreams and never give up on their aspirations.

Themes

Shooting Star, Crouching Panther explores a wide range of themes, including:

- Identity and culture
- Belonging and alienation
- Resilience and strength
- Prejudice and discrimination
- The power of storytelling

Author

David A. Robertson is a renowned Indigenous author from the George Gordon First Nation in Saskatchewan. He is the author of several award-winning books, including the Governor General's Award-winning When We Were Alone. Robertson is a passionate advocate for Indigenous rights and education, and his work has been widely praised for its authenticity and its ability to bridge cultures.

Reviews

"Shooting Star, Crouching Panther is a powerful and moving novel that sheds light on the challenges faced by Indigenous youth in Canada. Robertson's writing is lyrical and evocative, and his characters are deeply relatable. This is an important book that deserves to be read by everyone."— The Globe and Mail

"David A. Robertson has crafted a masterpiece with Shooting Star, Crouching Panther. This novel is a testament to the resilience and strength of Indigenous youth. It is a story that will stay with me long after I finish reading it."— The National Post

Shooting Star, Crouching Panther is a must-read for anyone interested in Indigenous literature, Canadian literature, or young adult fiction. It is a powerful and moving story that explores the complexities of identity, culture, and the search for one's place in the world. Robertson's writing is lyrical and evocative, and his characters are deeply relatable. This is an important book that deserves to be read by everyone.

To learn more about Shooting Star, Crouching Panther, or to order a copy, please visit the Dundurn Press website.

Tecumseh: Shooting Star, Crouching Panther (Quest Library (Dundurn Press)) by Jim Poling Sr.

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 1179 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 163 pages

Stories of War from the Women Reporters Who Covered Vietnam

The Vietnam War was one of the most significant events of the 20th century. It was a complex and controversial conflict that had a profound impact on both the United States...

The Hero and Saint of Islam: A Perennial Philosophy

Ali ibn Abi Talib, the fourth caliph of Islam, is a figure of great significance in the Muslim world. He is revered as a hero and a saint, and his...