The letters in The Idea of Canada are divided into four sections:

- Who We Are
- Where We Come From
- Where We Are Going
- What We Believe

The Who We Are section includes letters that explore the diversity of the Canadian people. These letters celebrate the many cultures, languages, and religions that make up Canada. They also discuss the challenges that Canadians face, such as racism, discrimination, and poverty.

The Where We Come From section includes letters that explore the history of Canada. These letters tell the stories of the people who came to Canada from all over the world. They also discuss the major events that have shaped Canadian history, such as the arrival of Europeans, the fur trade, and the two world wars.

The Where We Are Going section includes letters that explore the future of Canada. These letters discuss the challenges and opportunities that Canada faces in the 21st century. They also offer visions of a more just, equitable, and sustainable Canada.

The What We Believe section includes letters that explore the values that Canadians hold dear. These letters discuss the importance of democracy, freedom, equality, and compassion. They also discuss the challenges that Canadians face in living up to these values.

The Idea of Canada has been a bestseller in Canada and has been translated into many languages.
